

Tower, College Yearbook, Makes Its Appearance

Book Is Good Looking and Seems Filled With Items Genuinely Interesting.

Dedicated to Dr. Miller

Faculty Characterizations and Senior Squibs Add Humor to Junior Publication.

Wearing a neat green cover—digitized and pleasing in effect—the 1941 Tower made its appearance on Wednesday afternoon of this week. Brought out by members of the Junior Class, with Dan Emerson as editor and Harvey Davis as business manager, the yearbook offers innovations of which the management is proud.

Dr. Jesse Miller, member of the Board of Regents, smiles genially from one of the first few pages of the Tower, for it is to Dr. Miller that the Tower is dedicated. The dedication speaks of the fine public work done by Dr. Miller: "To serve on local public school boards and state higher education governing boards for thirty years is, in itself, a testimony of valuable service to the public."

Few campus pictures, as such, are included in the 1941 Tower. Many pictures of the work of the College are used. Many group pictures show the students in the various activities which make up college life: Book Store—"for food, books, and 'jelling'"; getting the Northwest Missourian and looking for the Stroller; performing experiments in chemistry, physics, or geography; dancing in the Student Center; eating in the cafeteria; practice teaching; listening in assembly.

The faculty section is an attempt to reveal faculty personality rather than a recital of degrees held. Southern cordial hospitality is remarked in Miss Mary Fisher; twinkling eyes say it is Mr. George H. Colbert (though the book says J. H.); a smile as broad as his Dixie accent characterizes Miss Day Weems; the one who "wears a perpetual smile, framed by a disposition which goes with it well," is Miss Carrie Hopkins; the man with "a suave way of drawing you out completely before you get a statement from him," the yearbook says is Dean Jones; and the President "will take you to his office and smooth out your problems as slick as you please."

A sleuth must have written the squibs about the seniors, for nobody else could have unearthed so much about them. Mary Virginia Beck "runs the Commerce office efficiently," Margaret Dickinson is "a whiz with a rolling pin," C. F. Lyndon can "talk around a point and never hit it," "Big brown eyes—and she's learning to cook"—Dean Nichols; "Whether it's art or Ode . . ."

Seniors Present Annual Class Day Exercises

The Class Day exercises of the thirty-fifth commencement of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College were held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. This program is a traditional one.

At the program Wednesday morning the annual gift of a tree for the campus was presented. Kenneth Dowell, on behalf of the class presented the College with a Sweet Gum tree. This will be planted here on the campus.

Mildred Niccum played Brahms Rhapsody No. 1 from Opus 79 for piano. This was followed by a trumpet solo by Don Moyer, Del Stalger's "Carnival of Venice."

Marjorie Stone then presented the gift of the class of 1941, a painting by Frank B. Nuderscher, a native Missouri artist. This gift was accepted with an expression of great pleasure by President Lamkin.

The class history and prophecy were presented in the form of skits. Edwin Patton and Vaughn Means were in charge of this part of the program.

Iola Argo sang a solo, "Deep River." Marjorie Powell and Leland Hamilton gave farewells to the faculty and campus, respectively. Harold Hull presented the cane on behalf of the Senior class, to Wesley McClaren, president of the Junior class.

Leason Wilson was general chairman of the committee for the exercises. Other members of the committee were: Mary Virginia Beck, Vaughn Means and Edwin Patton.

Son Is Born to the Wilsons
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson of Liberty announce the birth of a son born May 12. He has been named Gerald Wayne. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson attended school here. Mrs. Wilson, who was Miss Opal Winger before her marriage, taught at Skidmore for several years. Mr. Wilson received his degree in 1933.

College Choir Will Give Ballad-Lyric Program

The College Choir directed by Dr. Reven S. DeJarnette will present a Ballad-Lyric program in the College Auditorium Monday, May 26, at 8:15 o'clock. The choir will be assisted by the Women's Ensemble directed by Miss Marian J. Kerr; the College Quartet directed by Mr. H. N. Schuster; Rosa Lee Roark, soprano; Marvin Gench, baritone; and Mrs. H. N. Schuster, accompanist. The concert will seek to combine and correlate some of the world's great poetry with lovely musical settings by leading composers. Through the efforts of Dr. DeJarnette the choir has presented several concerts this year but special emphasis has been put forth to make this concert of interest to every one. Special explanatory comments on the theme and texts of the music will be given by Dr. Anna M. Painter.

Included on the program are ballads, lyrics of love and nature, a dramatic monologue, convivial lyrics, and sacred lyrics.

Senior Art Exhibit Opens With Preview Tuesday Afternoon

Majors and Minors Show Their Work Done During Four Years.

Students, faculty members, and out-of-town guests attended the reception and preview of the Senior Art students' work in Exhibit hall, Tuesday, May 20, from three to five o'clock. The exhibit will remain until May 28. The public is invited to see it.

Exhibition Hall was transformed into a show place of beauty by the addition of a colorful array of art work, and the pleasing arrangement of palms.

The serving table was centered with vari-colored snapdragons flanked by crystal candelabra and white tapers. Margaret Cunningham poured the first hour and Belvidere Crain the second hour.

"Amarillis," an oil by Mary Louise Karns of St. Joseph is very unusual and attractive. The brilliant lily-like flower is made to stand out by the addition of a dark background. Miss Karns' oils include two portrait studies, one of her sister and the other of Eleanor Olney, a student in the College. Another striking example of Miss Karns' talent is to be seen in a sculptured head which she is showing.

Glen Dora Lehman of Skidmore excels in drawing and painting the human figure. She has one figure study in oils and a number in black and white.

Carmen Madrigal Nieto of Costa Rica is showing oils and design work. Her oils include a bamboo forest, a portrait study and some landscapes.

Edwin Patton of Maryville is represented by landscapes in oil and by numerous pieces of design. Especially attractive is his landscape "Quietude," worked out in brown tones.

Ocie Rhoades of Maryville has been successful in rendering her texture in her oils. Her contributions to the exhibit include a pen and ink perspective rendering of the entrance to the college library that will be used as a book plate.

Robert Turner of Platte City is outstanding for his exhibit of craft work and posters.

The fourteen senior majors and minors are exhibiting a total of two hundred thirty-seven examples of their four years of work. Forty-two of this number are original oil paintings.

Of these students exhibiting, Mary Louise Karns, Glen Dora Lehman, Carmen Madrigal Nieto, Edwin Patton, Ocie Rhoades, and Robert Turner are majors. Minors are Margery Currutt, Marian Davis, Ruth Snyder, Stella Martin, Nyda Henning, Margaret Stafford, Lorraine Woodward, and Martha Sue Zimmerman.

Donald Hepburn Makes Plans to Return Here

Mr. Donald Hepburn, a graduate of the class of 1939, was here at the College last Monday. He was making arrangements to attend school this summer as a post graduate.

Mr. Hepburn has been teaching for the past year in the High School at Atalissa, Iowa. He will be employed there again next year.

Mildred Niccum Gives Senior Piano Recital

Mildred Niccum, senior student at the College Conservatory, was presented in a piano recital Thursday, May 8, at 8:00 o'clock.

Miss Weems Goes South to Become Dance Director

Takes Position in Ship School of Speech and Dancing in Dickson.

Miss Day Weems will leave for her home in Dickson, Tennessee, about June 1. She will there be engaged as director of the Dance Department of the Ship School of Speech and Dancing.

This school is owned and operated by her mother, Mrs. Joe B. Weems, who is well known in her own right as a teacher of speech. Last year she won the national speech tournament at San Francisco, California. This year she was the recipient of the first trophy ever given a speech teacher by the National Forensic League. This was awarded to her as the speech teacher who had done most for the profession.

Miss Weems explained that the central branch of the school is located in Dickson but that branches of the school have been organized in Nashville, Waverly, McEwen, Goodlettsville, and Donaldson. She will spend a day a week teaching dancing in each of these places.

Miss Weems was engaged in this kind of work before she came here. She said that she began teaching at the age of twelve. After she left her sister, Violetta, took her place. Violetta has attended the College here this past year where she has been prominent in speech and dance activities.

Miss Weems said that since coming here in March, 1938, she has enjoyed her work very much. She expressed sincere regret at leaving her many friends and acquaintances here. She said that she had enjoyed her associations with the other faculty members very much and wished especially to express her appreciation for the consideration shown her by President Lamkin and Dean Jones.

Miss Rosa Lee Roark Presents Senior Recital

Miss Rosa Lee Roark, soprano, was presented in a Senior vocal recital, Monday night, May 19, 1941, in the Horace Mann Auditorium.

For her first group, Miss Roark sang "Now the Sheep Secure Are Grazing" by Bach-arr. Frank La Forge, and "Alleluia" by Mozart.

The second group consisted of "Stoendehon" by Richard Strauss, the lovely "Wiegensiedel" by Brahms, and "Elsa's Traum" by Wagner.

The next group included "Ah Love But a Day" by Mrs. H. H. Beach, "The Poet Sings" and "The Little Shepherd's Song" by Wintler Watts.

Miss Roark sang "One Fine Day" (from "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini) for her fourth group. Her interpretation of this number was expressive and delightful.

The last group included "An American Lullaby" by Gladys Rich, "The Italian Street Song" from "Naughty Marietta" by Victor Herbert was a brilliant closing. Miss Roark was assisted by the College Male Quartet. She was accompanied by Mrs. H. N. Schuster.

PRESIDENT'S RESIDENCE

The President's Residence, an interesting old brick house, is the scene each year of a reception to the members of the graduating class. This reception is one of the events long to be remembered by the students who take degrees from the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. At this time they are received graciously by President and Mrs. Lamkin and are made to feel that they are truly honored guests.

Twentieth Year

Next Tuesday morning when the graduates of the Class of 1941 march to the stage of the College Auditorium to receive their degrees, the president of the College, Mr. Uel W. Lamkin, will be conferring degrees for the twentieth consecutive year upon graduates of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. During that time he has conferred more than two thousand degrees.

It is a matter of pride with the President that he has never been absent from the commencement exercises during the twenty years that he has been president of the College.

President Lamkin takes a personal interest in every student who receives the degree from the College and refers to the graduates of the College as "our boys" and "our girls." Just a few days ago, when he spoke of a certain commencement address he was going to make for a high school in Missouri, he said, "You know, there are three of our boys down there."

In the twenty years that Mr. Lamkin has been president, the College has seen many changes. In 1921, only 25 degrees were conferred, as compared with some 175 this year. The physical plant of the College has been greatly improved. In 1921 there was no Residence hall, there was no Gymnasium, there was no Library Building, there was no Horace Mann Laboratory School—to mention but a few of the obvious changes. The faculty has been increased, the curriculum has been extended, the College has received numerous recognitions from various rating agencies, not the least of which is its having been placed on the approved list of the American Association of University Women, thus making the women graduates eligible to membership in that organization on a par with the graduates from the best universities and colleges in the United States and the world.

The College during the twenty years has sent its graduates into many portions of importance and honor. It has served its district well, but its influence has been much wider. Through the efforts of its president, it has brought to the campus students from other countries than the United States. Through the national and international services of its president, the College has become known far and wide.

The President of the College has just reason to be proud as he confers degrees on this his twentieth commencement. He has seen a fine growth in the college whose business he has administered.

Swimming Letters Are Awarded at Picnic

Marjorie Coates and Jean Strong were awarded letters for passing Red Cross intermediate swimming tests at a picnic at the College Park, Monday, May 19, following a swimming party at the College pool from 5 until 6 o'clock. Agnes Kowitz was in charge of arrangements.

Miss Winifred Ann Carruth, sponsor, and Miss Miriam Waggoner and Miss Day Weems, honor guests, were present.

Ray Dull Will Attend University of Iowa

Ray Dull, a graduate of the College with the class of 1934, was on the campus Tuesday. Mr. Dull has been employed at St. James where he has built an exceptionally good music department, according to newspaper reports of his record there.

Mr. Dull plans to attend the University of Iowa at Iowa City this summer where he will work on his masters degree. This will be his second summer in the University.

Retiring President of Student Governing Body Speaks to Fellow Students

Fellow Students:

I want to express my appreciation to those individuals who have helped to make this year a successful one. There has been a fine spirit of cooperation and that cooperation has been a genuine asset to our student government. The Social Committee, the Cheer Leaders, the Intra-Mural Commission, various other committees, and Student Senators, all deserve a vote of thanks for the part they have contributed to make the "wheels go round."

There is much to be done. Our governing set-up is not a perfect one; we are lax in interest and participation; we tend to choose our leaders more on popularity than merit; we do not cooperate thoroughly with our faculty; we forget about the rights of our fellow students, and probably worst of all, we do not express our opinions effectively.

I would like to see inaugurated on our campus a Student Forum which would act as a clearing house for student opinion. This forum may or may not be connected with the Student Senate. A leader would be appointed but the discussion would be informal. Problems of local, national, and international interest could be discussed with more stress upon local affairs.

Then, what might be an outgrowth of this forum—an honor system is needed. If we are going to live and work in a democracy, we must be honest with ourselves and others. It is generally realized that an honor system cannot be set up in a school which is not ready for it and willing to accept it with all its responsibilities. Therefore I would recommend an educational program directed toward the faculty as well as the students. This educational program might be carried on by means of round table discussions, forums, open meetings, articles in the College paper, questionnaires and stimulating talk about it. Only when the overwhelming majority understands the system and expresses a desire for it, however, can an honor system be set up.

I would suggest that instead of the Senate's appointing faculty members as sponsors they be nominated and elected the same as senators. I would like to see more student representation on certain faculty committees and would suggest faculty-student administration committees, set up with the purpose of bringing student representatives on problems such as arranging the calendar, curriculum, and the like. This would have an added advantage to the administration of publicizing its acts and ideas, and thus, informing the student body of administrative point of view.

I believe we need a more complete program for getting freshmen and transfer students acquainted with our school. I believe we should elect our officers so that in the spring when the fiscal year has ended there is not an entirely new set to take

Costa Rican Will Leave After Year in College

Miss Noemi Morales from San Jose, Costa Rica, plans to leave the campus on May 29 after a year's study in the College. She will spend a few weeks touring the eastern part of the United States the first part of the summer. From Maryville she will go to Kansas City and so to New Jersey, on to Pittsburg, points of interest in Washington, D. C., and then to New York City.

There is a possibility that Miss Morales may continue her studies another year in some college in New York City. Her study will be in psychology and a special study will be made of abnormal children. If she returns to Costa Rica this year she will leave New York harbor about the last of July.

Miss Morales says that her year in the College will be a life long memory to her and that she wishes to be remembered by her many good friends here. She and Carman Madrigal are taking degrees.

Fifth Volume of "The Studies" Is Being Distributed

Three Local People and One Off-Campus Person Are Represented.

The College publication, The Northwest Missouri State Teachers College Studies has been released and copies are being sent to libraries and interested scholars in many states.

The publication contains the lectures given during February. They are, "Cosmic Rays," Dr. Joseph Hake; "Poets Are Story Tellers," Dr. Blanche Dow; "The Persistence of Shinto in the Modern World," Dr. Harry G. Dildine; and "The Role of Science in Education for Our Times," Dr. Mary J. Guthrie, of the University of Missouri.

Each February three members of the College faculty and one guest speaker lecture on subjects of general scholarly interest. The lectures are designed to stimulate scholarly enterprise on behalf of the students, and are an evidence of professional activity on the part of the faculty.

Since 1937, the yearly lectures have been published in The Northwest Studies. They were begun with the purpose of making the lectures become part of the permanent records of the College.

The College is the only State Teachers College in Missouri having a publication of this kind. Five volumes have been published thus far.

Gospel Team Presents Program at Blockton

The College Y. M. C. A. Gospel Team presented a program before a union congregation of the churches of Blockton, Iowa, in the Methodist church at that place on Sunday, May 18, at 11:00 o'clock.

Paul Smith, of Blockton, as the new chairman of the Gospel Team, was in charge of the program. The principal speakers were Emmert Lawson who spoke on "Living the More Abundant Life," and Jesse Lundy who spoke on "Faith." The call to worship was given by Lloyd Latta, invocation by Virgil Blackwelder, scripture, by Cecil Newkirk, and the songs were led by Marion Moyes. Virgil Blackwelder with trumpet and Duane Cunniff with trombone gave a selection, "London-derry Air." Randolph Butts played a piano solo.

Those who made the trip were Paul Smith, Cecil Newkirk, Marion Moyes, Emmert Lawson, Jesse Lundy, Virgil Blackwelder, Randolph Butts, Duane Cunniff, Lloyd Latta, Buford Elliott, Harvey Thompson, Ellis Reynolds, and Mack Jackson.

The revue was under the general supervision of Mr. Robert Main of the dramatics department. Miss Day Weems assisted with the Dance Club numbers. Miss Jacinta Kampmeier and Mr. John Geiger assisted with the Salon Orchestra and the Dance Band. Miss Marian Kerr assisted with the "Triple Trio." Dr. Reven S. DeJarnette and Miss Gladys Bookman both gave general assistance.

As an all-college revue, put on from original material, the production used many students who worked hard to make it a success. They were pleased over the good attendance, for a large house saw the performance of the revue.

Senior and Alumnus Go to Camp Institute

Leland Hamilton, a member of the Senior Class, and Bill Evans of St. Joseph, an alumnus of the College, left Friday for Knobnoster to attend a week-end of the Sixth Annual Summer Camp Institute, sponsored by the Missouri Valley Section of the American Camping Association in cooperation with the Council of Social Agencies of Kansas City. The meeting will be held at Camp Number One, Federal Recreation Demonstration Area.

The meeting is for directors, camp committee members, recreation leaders, and others interested in camping and outdoor recreation. People working with Girl Reserve, Boy Scouts, High Y, or other groups will be in attendance. The institute offers a week-end of instruction in camping, and outdoor programs of fun and recreation.

Seniors are: Jay Glaze Baker, Cainsville; Lucile Jeffrey, Hale; Katherine Leach, Clearmont; and Richard Miller, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Miss Chloe E. Millikan will deliver the professional address at the banquet. Her topic is "Seeing Woods Before Trees."

Many Cooperate in All-College Revue Wednesday Evening

Robert Flowers Sees His Script Become Actual Stage Production.

When the curtain went up Wednesday evening on the first act of "Take It From Me," the script of which was written by Robert L. Flowers of Hopkins, the audience had the illusion of looking into a student union patio and each found himself thereafter an interested spectator on college life "as it is today—and as it isn't."

An air of suspense held those who saw the revue as they watched the campus feud grow furious before their eyes. As Doris Delevan, played by Dorothy White, matched her wits against Don Wiley, played by Elmer Hawk, the spectators caught themselves wondering who would eventually win—and they were pleased when the happy ending revealed the tenseness they had experienced.

The revue was under the general supervision of Mr. Robert Main of the dramatics department. Miss Day Weems assisted with the Dance Club numbers. Miss Jacinta Kampmeier and Mr. John Geiger assisted with the Salon Orchestra and the Dance Band. Miss Marian Kerr assisted with the "Triple Trio." Dr. Reven S. DeJarnette and Miss Gladys Bookman both gave general assistance.

As an all-college revue, put on from original material, the production used many students who worked hard to make it a success. They were pleased over the good attendance, for a large house saw the performance of the revue.

EDITOR EXPRESSES THANKS

With this issue of the Northwest Missourian, the staff closes a year of intensive activity. It has been a busy year in which we have attempted to put out a paper of which every student, faculty member, and alumni member could be justly proud. I hope we have succeeded in doing just that.

It is with sincerity that I wish to express my appreciation not only to a cooperative staff, an efficient office force, and a most capable, cooperative, and helpful adviser, but to the Student Senate, administration, and student body as well.

(Signed)—Bertha Mildred Nelson

Words of Appreciation

The adviser to the Northwest Missourian takes this opportunity in the last issue of the paper this year, of expressing her thanks for the fine cooperation of the staff in putting out a paper that the College has been proud to claim. The work has been hard, and the hours have been long for those who felt the responsibility for the paper. They have worked faithfully, and they deserve commendation from all who have read the paper.

She wishes also to express her appreciation to the Student Senate for the lively interest it has taken in the matter of producing a good paper. She feels there should be hearty cooperation between the student governing association and the people responsible for the college newspaper; and she has felt that this cooperation has been evident this year.

Especially does she wish to express her appreciation to Max Rush and to Bertha Mildred Nelson, the two who have been editors this year. They have been fine people with whom to work. They have both had high ideals as to what a college paper should be—consequently the task of advising has been pleasant.

Dear
Diary,

The Stroller...

The Stroller has been nearly run to death this week, what with broadcasting for the Class Day exercises and winding up his / her affairs so that he can enjoy the summer vacation without having to turn out that column every week. Oh, yes, he does like to do it, but it does take time. Just as the Stroller said in her broadcast, "Things will out if you ask enough persons," but the difficulty is getting around to ask "enough persons."

For a week—no, for weeks—he has been trying to find out why Ruth Ward has been looking so happy, and it was not until this morning that he learned—but Ruth made him promise not to tell. That's the life of the poor Stroller.

The Stroller almost fell in love herself this year, but when she saw Jackie Salmon, an old man—well, she decided against falling.

The Stroller thinks he is going to major in art. He likes art—always has—but that is not the only reason for his changing his major. Look at Frances Blakley, and look at Ocie Rhoades, and look at Mary Louise Karns. Ever see anybody so supremely happy-looking as they are? That is, unless you look at Ed Patton—that lovesick look is happy, isn't it?

No danger of mimeograph operators telling what is on the sheets they run off if the Stroller can judge from a sheet he saw lying on the desk of the adviser to the senior class. The sheet read: "Directions to Seniors. President's Reception: 1. Seniors will enter from the east door. 2. Chairs will be provided and everybody is asked to be seated by 10:45." That looked phoney to the Stroller and he investigated. Whoever cut the stencil had dropped out a section about Baccalaureate with the foregoing amusing result—except that the senior adviser didn't see anything funny about it.

P. S. A new stencil was cut!

For some future entertainment, the Stroller suggests that Messrs. Baldwin, Seubert and Dieterich render an unrequested version of "Doodle-de-do," like the one they did at the Alpha Sig formal.

It was at the same shin-dig that Evelyn Oyerly found herself with not one, but two Mayers. While date Dick, along with Marilee Cook and a couple of saxes, sat in with the Dick Mills swingsters, brother Don, who snuck in with half the College Dance Band, took care of Ev. Oh well, a pun at hand is worth two in the band!

Roy Tanner Allows Visitors Only Four Scattered Hits in First Game.

The Bearcats and the Kansas Aggies divided a two-game series played last week-end on the Maryville diamond.

Roy Tanner pitched the Bearcats to a 5-1 victory over the Kansas team in the first game of the series on Friday afternoon. The first two scores for Maryville came in the first inning when a Kansas error and a walk enabled Wilson and DeMitchell to cross the plate.

Two more Bearcat runs were added in the second inning. Fletcher scored when the catcher threw the ball over second base and Wilson scored after DeMitchell's fly to center field.

The Bearcats made their fifth and last score in the fourth inning. Again it was Fletcher who scored after hitting a single.

The only Kansas run came in the sixth. Dunlap got on second by an error. Kier followed by a single due to an error, and Graham drove home the run with a fly.

Tanner and Bennett were the batter-ies for Maryville; Thomas, Gleue, and Reamer for Kansas.

Stokowski's Orchestra Employs Many NYA Youth

Placement of 27 NYA youth musicians in private paid employment as members of Leopold Stokowski's All-American Youth Orchestra which is now starting a nationwide tour is one of the highlights of accomplishment of the NYA music program, Aubrey Williams, Administrator of the National Youth Administration, said today.

At the present time the National Youth Administration has music activities in all 48 states including 21 symphony orchestras, 30 bands and 52 choral groups. Arrangements are now being concluded for NYA musicians to cooperate in the national defense program by providing entertainment at army camps and other military establishments.

"The placement of a number of NYA musicians in the All-American Youth Orchestra is another illustration that the National Youth Administration is providing young people with the kind of practical experience needed for private employment, not only for industrial jobs but for all of the types of work needed in America today. It is especially important to strengthen the cultural foundations of American democracy at this time and the NYA music program is making a real contribution in this direction," Mr. Williams said.

6-240 Revised of April 22, 1941.

Original appointments will be made at salaries ranging from $1,620 to $2,600 a year. Opportunities for advancement are excellent. Applications may be filed until further notice with the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. Qualified persons are urged to apply for details to the Secretary at Wright Field; to any first or second-class post office; to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.; or to any of the Commission's District Offices.

Eldon W. Irwin, Secretary.

Air Corps Needs Added Procurement Inspectors

No small part of the work of securing faster, more powerful, and safer airplanes and equipment is the inspection of aircraft materials. Parachutes, goggles, camera lenses, instruments, and all other equipment must be inspected by competent well-trained men.

Through an examination announced some time ago, the Civil Service Commission has been seeking experienced men for procurement inspector positions in the Air Corps of the War Department. The Commission has not been able to obtain enough men for these positions. On the contrary, the needs have been extended to other fields than those in the original announcement. Five new fields in which persons may qualify have been added, and the options now are: Aircraft, engines, instruments, parachutes, aircraft propellers, tools and gages, radio, aircraft miscellaneous materials, textiles, fur-lined clothing and optical.

In general, mechanical experience, which may include apprenticeship, is required in the field applied for. For only four options (aircraft, parachutes, propellers, and aircraft materials) need this experience be specifically on aircraft materials. College courses in engineering may be substituted for part of the experience. Applicants will not have to take a written test, but will be rated on their experience and education. For details concerning the amended requirements applicants should consult Announcement No.

Tennis Duo Rides High

Rumor has it by way of the clay courts that certain members of the College faculty have all of the tennis-doubles teams quivering in their wake. In the personages of Mr. John Geiger of the Music Department and Mr. Sterling Surrey of the Commerce Department, the faculty can now boast of two of the most proficient from their ranks who ever raised a racket around tennis courts. Displaying only ordinary form until only a month ago, this inveterate pair forthwith began to play a brand of tennis that had all opposition shouting "Uncle".

When word was waited through the halls of the many laurels these two were winning, covetous eyes soon were wondering the secret of their prowess. As a result of this unprecedented wave of popularity, these gentlemen were interviewed with the hope that public enunciation of their successful tactics would be forthcoming.

When asked about the key to his game, Mr. Surrey was, as usual, reticent in making any statements. After much effort on the part of the interviewer, however, he condescended to say, "I play the no-stoop, no-squat, no-squint game. Thus I have ease in getting the low ones, and the high ones are out of bounds anyway. And if you take time to squint, the ball has gone by. Wise tennis is played with a minimum of effort, and besides, no one wants to exhaust himself after five hours of teaching commerce."

Mr. Geiger, on the other hand, was very eager to be interviewed. Beaming with incredulity over having been placed on such a high pedestal by tennis fans, he blatantly exclaimed: "Yes, it's true. We haven't met our match in a doubles team as yet, though many of the boys are preparing very hard in order to beat us. Well, if I were to say what is the secret to my game, I would say that it is my ability to be where the ball is. My size is advantageous in this respect. It's hard for them to miss me, and if I hold my racket out and give it a slight degree of lift, I'm a cinch to return the ball. Much credit must be given to Surrey, though, for his height at the net simply dazzles the opposition."

The two men were hesitant about taking too much credit for their successes this spring, but ventured a guess that if given choice of courts, the wind to their side, and a good referee, they could consistently defeat any team in the College.

Unbeknownst perhaps to many though, the exploits of these tennis champions have been far from abetting to the plight of hibernating animals thereabouts. According to official tabulation, they have to date killed eleven gophers, seven blue-racers, four garter snakes, and finished off several frogs in the adjoining pond. When questioned about this seeming inhuman practice, Mr. Surrey conjectured, "Well, victory must come at some cost."

It now appears that they are likely to remain in a class by themselves, unless some unknowns rise to dethrone them.

Educator Criticizes "Cream Puff" Teaching

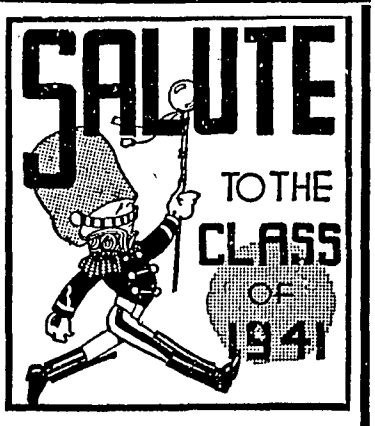

LORETTO, COLO. (ACP)—Less "cream puff" teaching and more "intellectual spinach" is needed in American colleges, in the opinion of Dr. Paul J. Ketrick, president of Loretto Heights college.

"Cream puffs," he says, "have entered too much into the daily college diet, and you may be sure that some students are certainly not getting the right amount of intellectual spinach." "Learning isn't an easy business," Dr. Ketrick says. "It's complicated. You can't just ladle it out between riotous week-ends, hoping for miraculous results."

The "rigid, lockstep system" of Victorian days failed as did the "football bowl, coonskin coat and pigskin head" system of post-war days, he believes. That is needed now, Dr. Ketrick declares, is "intelligent participation in a well-ordered education plan."
